In January 2003 my life was chaos. I was working two jobs, going to seminary while trying to be a decent husband and father. Life was hectic and harried. Truth be told, I felt like a failure as a husband and dad because of the demands on my time. I started seminary in 2001 and I knew I wouldn't finish until at least 2006 and there was a season, which lasted a couple of months, that I seriously considered quitting seminary. I could only see the circumstances around me and those circumstances told me that I wasn't even half-way through seminary, I was tired and I felt like my family was getting week-old leftovers of my time. What made matters worse is that my seminary professors did a great job of preparing future ministers by frequently reminding us of the pitfalls and difficulties of ministry. I listened intently to story after story of ministry horror stories and I asked myself, "Is this my future? Is this what I have to look forward to?" Combine those thoughts with feeling worn out, being only half-way through seminary and feeling like I'm letting down my family, I can tell you that quitting seminary seemed VERY appealing. I talked with my wife about dropping out and she wisely suggested that I speak to a seminary professor before I did something rash. I scheduled a lunch with Dr. Isam Ballenger, who was my Missiology professor. We met at a Chinese restaurant on a bitterly cold January day and I shared my struggles. At one point I told him, "You professors do a great job of painting a bleak picture of what it looks like to be a pastor! I can't tell you how many ministry horror stories I've heard. I'm not sure this life is for me and I'm seriously thinking of quitting." Dr. Ballenger calmly put down his fork and looked at me, his face full of compassion and care, and he said, "Oh no. Todd don't do that. We've told you those stories to prepare you and maybe we've told too many of those stories. Perhaps we have not told you enough about the blessings of ministry." I will never forget what he said next. He said, "Remember your calling. Don't forsake your call. The blessings of being a pastor of a local church are too many to name. You will miss those blessings." He wisely pointed me back to the time I heard the call of the Lord and then he pointed me forward to remind me of God's sustaining presence, God's promises and future blessings. Dr. Ballenger spoke to me with such care and conviction that I knew I could not quit. If I'd made it this far, then I could certainly finish.

I tell you that story to tell you this story. One of the greatest blessings I've had in ministry is working alongside Linda Gardner.

The Lord sent Linda to be our Administrative Assistant one month after I arrived at Bethel. She's been WAY more than an Administrative Assistant. She truly treated her job as a calling and a ministry. She's visited our congregants in the hospital. She routinely showed up to help with funerals on Saturdays. She listened to us. She prayed with us and prayed for us. She's been a prayer partner and confidant to me. No matter the situation, Linda always found something positive and encouraging to say and always pointed us back to the Lord. She's been the hands and feet of Christ in our office. I have learned so much from her these last 11 years and admire her greatly. Linda retired at the end of September and I want to say a huge "Thank you Linda!" for all of her hard work and tireless dedication. Most of all, I want to thank her for being my friend. I will miss her. We will miss her and we most certainly wish her well and pray that life is full of abundant blessings in her retirement. I also want to thank Dr. Ballenger for his wise words. Had I dropped out of seminary I'd have missed the blessing of working with and knowing Linda and I would have missed 1,000 other blessings along the way.

Perhaps you are in the middle of some difficult circumstances right now. It's so easy to feel overwhelmed when you're in the middle of difficult, trying circumstances. If that's you, take a moment and look beyond the circumstances. Look back and consider all God has done. Listen to the words of Psalm 77:11-13, "I will remember the deeds of the Lord; yes, I will remember your miracles of long ago. ¹² I will consider all your works and meditate on all your mighty deeds. ¹³ Your ways, God, are holy. What god is as great as our God?" Amen. What god is as great as our Lord?! Then, pause and think about your future and the promises God has given you. From Jeremiah 29:11, "For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future." Remember it is God who holds our future and that future contains blessings untold. Please, don't allow the circumstances you're facing today to overwhelm you. Remember there are blessings untold in store for you! Amen. May God bless Linda and her husband Charles. May God bless you and may God bless Bethel Baptist Church.

Todd

Dear Bethel Family,

Thank you all so much for the cards, texts, phone calls, the wonderful food and the beautiful basket of goodies during my recent surgery. Most of all, you will never know how much all your prayers meant to me.

Brenda Jeter

Dear Bethel Family,

Dennis and I are simply overwhelmed by your love and support during the last week or so. We wish it was possible to count the number of cards, call, emails, text messages and especially prayers on our behalf. Your care for us has made us feel very special during a challenging time! We are enjoying the lovely basket of fruit and other goodies that arrived at our home today and appreciate your thoughtfulness so much. Dennis is doing better and seems to be responding well to the medication thus far, so we are trying to move forward one day at a time!

1 large egg
1/3 cup canned pumpkin puree
2 Tbsp. maple syrup

3/4 cup powdered sugar
1 Tbsp. maple syrup
Pinch of pumpkin pie spice
1 to 3 tsp. water

1. Arrange racks in upper and lower thirds of oven; preheat to 350 degrees. Line 2 large baking sheets with parchment paper.
2. In a large bowl, whisk flour, pumpkin pie spice, baking soda and salt. TRUNK or Treat

We need your help! We are hosting our annual Trunk or Treat community event on Friday, October 25 from 6 to 8 pm. This year, like we did last year, we are offering a walk-through experience! All participants will walk in one direction through a Halloween trail behind the church and finish their time with us by visiting trunks in the People of Hope Center parking lot. We look forward to a fun evening of serving together and welcoming the community onto our campus. To sign up to host a trunk or receive more information, please contact Mary Florence by cell phone (804) 647-5962 or by email at mrsflorence2013@gmail.com.

Candy donations are also needed and appreciated. Please no nuts and candy must be individually wrapped. Drop off in the People of Hope Center.

A Note from Our Library

We have a couple of books that are new to the library that you will want to check out. If you have fond memories of visiting Thalhimer's, you will enjoy Elizabeth Thalhimer Smartt's book, "Finding Thalhimer's". In it, she explores the history, memories and personal stories behind the store. It's an inspiring story of an immigrant family who built a successful business from the ground up.

We also have "Remarkably Bright Creatures", the debut novel by Shelby Van Pelt. It's the story of Tova, an aging widow who works at an aquarium, and Marcellus, an octopus who lives there. Their relationship brings Tova closer to finding answers about her son's disappearance. This book has been described as "charming, witty, and compulsively readable".

The deadline for the November Outreach is October 10th. All articles, thank you notes, ministry information and other items should be emailed to the church or dropped off at the church office before October 10th. Please make sure you submit them on time since this will be Kim's first time doing the newsletter by herself. Thank you for your help on this.

By Heather Kerns
Preschool Director

October is here which means our preschool classes have settled into their routines and are learning so much and having a blast!. The halls are being filled with student artwork and our teachers are always coming up with the most creative lessons. Seeing kids excited to get out of the car in the morning is the best feeling! And we have once again, been blessed with the most incredible and supportive preschool families who help make our jobs so enjoyable.

This month will be filled with excitement as we go on our annual field trip to Lloyd Family Farms in Rockville, VA, for a morning of hayrides, farm animals, exploration, and pumpkin picking. We will also have a visit from Fire Station #5 during Fire Safety Week. Our classroom lessons this month will center around the changing seasons and all things Fall.

As our preschool continues to grow, we are so thankful for the support of the church. We are appreciative for your patience and willingness to be flexible so that the preschool can bless as many families as possible. This little preschool is just so special and we are going to have an incredible year!

Operation Christmas Child October thru November 10

It's Shoebox time AGAIN!! Operation Christmas Child begins with you. From children to seniors, people pack shoebox gifts each year to bless children in need around the world. Parents often use the project to teach their kids about giving. Year-round volunteers support these efforts across the country. Long before shoeboxes arrive in more than 100 countries, volunteer National Leadership Teams train pastors and community leaders who want to share the message of the Gospel and bless children. The leaders learn how to host child-friendly outreach events, and in many places, they also offer "The Greatest Gift", a Gospel story booklet Samaritan's Purse developed for shoebox recipients, and invite children to participate in The Greatest Journey discipleship program.

Bethel is collecting shoe boxes the month of October and into November. Empty boxes are available in the People of Hope Center and in the parlor. All shoeboxes will need to be returned to Bethel by Sunday, Nov. 10.

Puppet Trip 2024

We had a wonderful mission opportunity with the special needs residents of Hope Tree Family Services in Salem, VA. We created an Adult Vacation Bible School around three of the Parables. We shared the bible stories, performed puppet shows, crafts, and games for each parable. We spent much of our time just loving the residents and sharing the Lord's love. We were able to bless them with all the games and craft items that you donated, they really appreciated those since the residents' love doing crafts and playing games in their homes. They live in houses that have six residents per household sharing the communal living space. We thank the church for the support of the puppet team and the mission trip opportunity.

Brunswick Stew Nov. 1

The Providers Sunday School Class will be sponsoring a Brunswick Stew on Friday, November 1. The entire church is invited to join us in making the stew. If you did not preorder, you can purchase stew on Saturday. The stew will be $12/quart and the proceeds will be split between the Food Pantry, the youth, and Blessing Warriors. Volunteers are welcome and needed especially from 2 p.m. to midnight. You haven't lived until you have tasted Bethel's Brunswick Stew!
